

Tony Stephan
Formulator of
EMPowerplus™ Q96

When Tony Stephan saw his family torn apart due to severe struggles with mood disorders, including his wife's tragic suicide, he was desperate to help heal his family. Tony began searching for medical answers when two of his children, Autumn and Joseph, were diagnosed with the same mood disorder that had plagued his wife.

Tony met with physicians and therapists, and pursued numerous treatments and medications for his children, but Autumn and Joseph continued to suffer. Ultimately his journey led him to the discovery of micronutrients. Working with scientists and experts, Tony created a nutritional formula and began giving it to his children. The results were nothing short of a miracle: their symptoms waned, they became stable, and with time, the family regained peace.

Passionate to see the product help others, Tony went on to persist in bringing it to the greater market, and EMPowerplus was born. Today, Tony and Q Sciences continue to produce the formula and restore quality of life for countless people worldwide.

EMPowerplus™ Q96

The Power of Micronutrients

EMPowerplus Q96 is the most-researched micronutrient formula in the world and is unlike any other vitamin or mineral supplement on the market, due to its proprietary formulation and technology.

Specifically formulated to provide essential nutritional support to the brain and central nervous system, EMPowerplus Q96 supports mood stability, mental clarity, improved cognition, and overall brain health and function. Research continues to show that the mind and body thrive when given the nutrients they need.

EMPowerplus Q96 delivers a balanced blend of 36 vitamins, minerals, and amino acids in a safe yet effective dose for both children and adults. The formula's power comes from using only the highest quality nutrients, the correct dosage of individual ingredients, and the precise combinations of vitamins, minerals, and amino acids that interact to enhance potency and effectiveness. The use of cutting-edge nano-chelation technology dramatically increases the bioavailability of micronutrients for maximum uptake in the brain.

Q Sciences is taking a new approach towards living healthy. The Science of Happiness and Wellness comes from giving your mind and body the nutrients needed to restore themselves. Once restored, the mind and body can do amazing things.

What are Micronutrients?

Micronutrients, otherwise known as microminerals and vitamins, are essential elements required by the body to live. Although the body only requires minuscule amounts of these micronutrients, they support most of our critical biological functions, including antioxidant support, immune health, brain health, and the nervous system. As tiny as the required amounts are, a deficiency can result in severe, even life-threatening illnesses. Microminerals include iron, cobalt, chromium, copper, iodine, manganese, selenium, and zinc, to name a few. Vitamins, which are organic compounds required as nutrients in tiny amounts, include vitamins D, A, E, C, K, and B complex.

At a minimum, an average person requires 28 essential microminerals and vitamins to be healthy. Recent studies show that almost 75% of Americans take in less than the recommended dietary allowance (RDA) for many micronutrients. Insufficient micronutrient intake has short-term and long-term implications on our health.

Few people get the RDA of micronutrients in diet alone, and rarely do they get an ample amount. Studies and research conducted on EMPowerplus Q96 show that even those who may not think they are undernourished most likely are, and can benefit exponentially from a high-quality, bioavailable micronutrient supplement.
